who we are

The Hoover City Schools Foundation was founded in 1992 to bridge the gap between increasingly limited public school funding and the growing needs of our students and teachers. It is primarily funded through a generous endowment established by Alabama Power. Interest from this endowment serves as the base for our annual grants.

what we do

We support Hoover City Schools by funding enhanced academics through grants, scholarships and innovative programs. In 2014 and 2015, the Foundation funded more than $50,000 in teacher grants for the purpose of enhancing innovative programming in our schools. The Foundation's grants open doors, ignite dreams and launch passions. Our efforts are strongly grounded by our mission of enhancing academic achievement and are aligned with the Hoover City School District's goals.

why we need you

The Hoover City School System is one of the most coveted school districts in Alabama. Our award-winning schools, outstanding teachers and leading-edge programs are what make Hoover City Schools an exceptional environment for students to excel. Maintaining this standard of excellence is made possible through the strong support of our community.

A Letter from Our Executive Director

I believe that a community is only as great as the public school system. Hoover attracts families and businesses with the promise of an outstanding public education. The Hoover City Schools Foundation provides opportunities for parents and businesses alike to make our public schools better—to make them great. The Foundation is our community's investment in education.

I also believe children should have the opportunity to explore their individual gifts, interests and skills throughout their academic career. The Hoover City Schools Foundation plays a large role in helping create those opportunities. The Foundation's grants encourage creativity and innovation by funding the "extras" that the district's budget cannot cover.

Please join our mission to support the students and teachers of the Hoover City School System and ensure their continued success.

Executive Director
